|---|--|
| ☐ Buyer badge QR, phase, supplier hall and booth saved offline. | ☐ Laptop tested through phone hotspot and a separate Wi-Fi path. |
| ☐ Venue and hotel addresses saved in English and Chinese. | ☐ Real Gmail, cloud file and supplier message completed successfully. |
| ☐ Mobile connection activated; backup connection still available. | ☐ Tickets, drawings, meeting list and support instructions downloaded. |
| ☐ Home number or alternate sign-in method retained for account recovery. | ☐ Fallback contact works without depending on Gmail or one blocked app. |

THE FOUR-LAYER TEST

1 Data

A normal accessible site loads.

2 Access

Gmail and work apps load.

3 Device

The laptop works too.

4 Task

Email, file and message finish.

Full signal. Nothing loads.

Use this 60-second sequence before changing several things at once.

Nothing loads

Open a normal accessible site. If it fails, switch between mobile data and Wi-Fi, then finish any hotel sign-in page.

Local sites load; global apps do not

The underlying connection works. Turn on the prepared access route, confirm the selected route and retry.

Only one app fails

Treat it as an app or account issue. Refresh, try the web version and check sign-in before replacing the whole setup.

The prepared route stops

Switch the underlying connection, refresh the private subscription, try the alternate route and then contact support.

Do not mistake one layer for another

INSTALL FORMAT

eSIM does not prove the route

Routing, hotspot permission and high-speed allowance are separate plan terms.

SIGNAL

Wi-Fi bars do not prove app access

A working local connection and access to international services are different tests.

COVERAGE

Phone access is not laptop access

Test tethering and the exact laptop you will carry before departure.

COMPLETION

Installation is not task success

Send the email, open the real file and message the supplier before calling it ready.
